

Puget Sound Shellfish Closure Response Sites 1992 - 2001

Drayton Harbor

1995: Downgraded 1,040 acres from Approved to Prohibited
1999: Downgraded 920 acres from Approved to Prohibited

Portage Bay

1997: Downgraded 60 acres from Approved to Restricted
1999: Downgraded 90 acres from Approved to Restricted

Samish Bay

1994: Downgraded 485 acres from Approved to Restricted, and 2,205 acres from Approved to Prohibited
1998: Upgraded 485 acres from Restricted to Approved, and 350 acres from Prohibited to Conditional

Similk Bay

2000: Downgraded from Approved to Prohibited (acreage unavailable)

Dungeness Bay

2000: Downgraded 300 acres from Approved to Prohibited
2001: Downgraded 100 acres from Approved to Prohibited

Lynch Cove

1993: Downgraded 430 acres from Approved to Prohibited, and 530 acres from Approved to Restricted
1996: Upgraded 530 acres from Prohibited to Approved
1998: Upgraded 394 acres from Prohibited to Approved

Port Gamble Bay

1996: Downgraded 20 acres from Approved to Prohibited
1999: Upgraded 20 acres from Prohibited to Approved

Rocky Bay

1995: Downgraded 30 acres from Approved to Prohibited

Lilliwaup Bay

1998: Downgraded 22 acres from Approved to Prohibited

Burley Lagoon

1999: Downgraded 230 acres from Conditional to Restricted

Henderson Inlet

2000: Downgraded 8 acres from Conditional to Prohibited

Nisqually Reach

1992: Downgraded 2,130 acres from Approved to Conditional
2000: Downgraded 74 acres from Conditional to Restricted